Local and Personal

Mrs. Hartwell of Oakland is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Archibald.

Claire Bryant was down from Richmond over the week-end visiting friends. Edgar Kennedy enlisted in the U. S. Navy, and Wm. Lloyd, of the Marines, were home over Sunday.

E. E. SOWER for Men's Shoes, and Shoe repairing. Neolin soles and rubber heels.

Miss Hattie Bohnett was home for an over-Sunday visit with a small portion of the family.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Wednesday, September 11th, 2:30 P. M. with Mrs. Hill, North 1st street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Savaker have taken up their residence in San Jose where Mr. Savaker is employed.

Miss Ruth Hayes who returned to her school work at Oakland last week, spent the week-end holiday at home.

Among the week-end visitors in Campbell was Miss Virginia Isham, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Minnie Lewis.

Mrs. H. V. Archibald was at Oakland last week in attendance upon the Exemplification department of the Relief Corps.

Miss Florence Brown who is teaching in Palo Alto, visited her aunt and past school mates here over the week-end, returning Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Jr., went to Palo Alto Monday to remain for a time as "Bob" is now at Camp Fremont and she thus be able to spend more time with him.

J. D. Blaine and sons, Franklin and George, with Irwin Henry, and E. E. Lanphear enjoyed a two day's outing, the first of the week, motoring to Sacramento.

Lieut. Edward Harrington of San Rafael was the guest of his friends, the Rev. Lloyd family, on Friday. Mr. Harrington has but recently received his commission as lieutenant.

Part of the J. F. Duncan family went to Capitola Sunday for their vacation. Mrs. Duncan and John, Jr., remained behind as John had been so inconsiderate as to develop mumps at the last minute.

Considerable attention was attracted to an unusually handsome Winton seen on our streets several times during the past week. It was the property of Mr. G. H. Dowell, whose wife is a cousin of Mrs. D. H. Cramer, and with whom they and their daughter were visiting. Mr. Dowell, who is manager of some mines in Arizona, lives at Bisbee, Arizona, and the family has been touring the southern half of the state visiting the various resorts.

W. C. T. U. Echoes

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a meeting, Aug. 14th, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Whitman with excellent attendance. A short address from a San Jose worker was timely and practical. It was to be regretted that every member was not present. A request from headquarters urged a careful report of Red Cross work in time for state convention,—all work done by W. C. T. U. members thru Red Cross activities. The full quota of war service fund has not yet been reached by Campbell union and members are urged to help in this matter at earliest convenience. The duty of writing United States senators in behalf of their favorable influence and vote met with hearty response from those present.

Since it has been proven that enough foodstuff is wasted in the manufacture of beer to make 7,000,000 loaves of bread daily, which food is needed to help feed our starving allies, it would seem we have a right to demand from Congress the immediate passage of National Prohibition as a war measure.

General Peckham says: "Banish the entire liquor industry from the United States; close every saloon, every brewery; suppress drinking by severe punishment to the drinker and if necessary, death to the seller, or maker, or both, as traitors, and the nation will suddenly find itself amazed at its efficiency and startled at the increase in its labor supply. I shall not go slow on Prohibition, for I know what is the greatest foe to my men,—greater even than the bullets of the enemy."

Section 4 of the Act of Congress Incorporating the American National Red Cross

"That from and after the passage of this Act it shall be unlawful for any person within the jurisdiction of the United States to falsely or fraudulently hold himself out as or represent or pretend himself to be a member of or an agent for the American National Red Cross, for the purpose of soliciting, collecting, or receiving money or material or for any person to wear or display the sign of the Red Cross or any insignia colored in imitation thereof for the fraudulent purpose of inducing the belief that he is a member of or an agent for the American National Red Cross. It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation, or association other than the American National Red Cross and its duly authorized employees and agents and the army and navy, sanitary and hospital authorities of the United States, for the purpose of trade or as an advertisement, to induce the sale of any article whatsoever, or for any business or charitable purpose to use within the territory of the United States of America and its exterior possessions the emblem of the Greek Red Cross on a white ground, or any sign or insignia made or colored in imitation thereof, or of the words "Red Cross" or "Geneva Cross" or any combination of these words: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that no persons, corporation or association that actually used or whose assignor actually used the said emblem, sign, insignia, or words for any lawful purpose prior to January 5th, 1905, shall be deemed forbidden by this Act to continue in use thereof for the same purpose and for the same class of goods. If any person violates the provisions of this section he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any Federal court shall be liable to a fine of not less than one or more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both, for each and every offense.

S. A. T. C. Explained

The Methodist and Congregational churches united Sunday evening in a patriotic meeting held according to request of the County Committee for the dissemination of information relative to the Students Army Training Corps.

Mr. I. W. Snow gave a very complete and clear outline of the plans so far as they are perfected, and stated that as soon as anything further was issued by the war department it would be made public at once.

Miss Cecile Ellison played a very delightful violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Emily Gard.

The Country Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the year Monday, September 9, at 2:30. It will be a social meeting held at the new home of Mrs. G. S. Robson with a short literary and musical program. As there is important business to be considered, a full attendance is desired.

These Are Good--Mighty Good!

McCrosky & Tweedale "Del Rey Brand" California Pink Beans, are in stock. At our low price these beans are wonderfully cheap—and equally good!

They sell at 10c a can.

Listen!—we still have a few dozen cans of those Better Buy and Metropolitan brands of oysters. These cannot now be purchased at wholesale for the low price that we offer them. We don't want to sell a large quantity to any one purchaser; but we should like to sell you a few cans from day to day—while they last. Better Buy Oysters; 2 cans for 25c. Metropolitan Brand Oysters; 15c straight.

Start the day right—with Blaine's Steel Cut Coffee. We don't say it's as good as a 40c grade, but some of our customers do. It's only 30c a lb.

How to Substitute Syrups for Sugar

In the present situation every housewife is very much interested in making her sugar ration last and any helps along that line are welcome.

Many articles say "use other sweetenings", but offer no particulars as to their substitution. The following directions therefor, furnished by the local sugar administrator, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, may help out some patriotic cook.

"Substitute Karo or other syrups for sugar in cakes. Use 2 cups of syrup in place of 1 cup of sugar, and deduct from liquid 1/4 cup for every cup of syrup.

E. G.—For a cake requiring 1 cup sugar and 1 cup milk, use 2 cups syrup and 1/2 cup milk."

Tell Us, Man

Tell us, are you advertising
In the same old foolish way
That your grand dad did before you,
And persist, "It doesn't pay?"
Think the whole world knows your address,
"Cause it hasn't changed in years?"
Wouldn't the paths of such logic
Drive a billy-goat to tears?
"Just a card" is all you care for,
Hidden, lonesome and unread,
Like the sign upon a tombstone
Telling folks that you are dead.
Wake up, man, and take a tonic,
Bunch your hits and make a drive,
Run a page, and change your copy,
ADVERTISE and keep alive!

Miss Abbie Sykes left Wednesday afternoon for Vallejo where she has accepted a position in the commercial department of the high school, teaching typewriting and stenography. Miss Sykes is a most efficient teacher in this line and her friends will be pleased to hear of her new position which carries with it an attractive increase in salary.

Mrs. Sykes will remain here for a time until Miss Sykes finds a suitable house which at this time is easy. They have both made a host of friends who, tho missing them, will wish them all success and happiness, with a hope of seeing them again.

An Editor's Appeal

My friend, help the editor in his wily-eyed search for news. When your friends come to see you, if you are not ashamed of it, tell him; when your wife gives a tea party if you have recovered from the effect of the gossip, drop in with the news; when a baby arrives fill your pockets with cigars and call; if you go to a party steal some of the good things, and leave 'em with the item in our sanctum. If your wife licks you come in and let us see your scars and tender sympathy through the paper; if your mother-in-law has died don't be bashful about it; give in all the common place news. In short whatever makes you feel proud, sad, lonesome or glad submit it to our 24 karat wisdom and see our matted locks part and stand on end with gratitude, which will pour from every pore like moisture from the dew besprinkled earth.

Eskimos.

Lieutenant Blaine Stevens, accompanied by his bride, were Sunday visitors in Campbell. Lieutenant Stevens will be remembered by many as one of the stars of the Campbell Athletics last year. His wife was formerly Miss Florence Welsh, the only daughter of a Seattle capitalist. Lieutenant Stevens is stationed at Camp Lewis but expects to leave for "over there" at an early date. Congratulations, Steve.

Roy Emerson, another boy that shone with the Athletics, is now a captain in the U. S. Engineer Corps.

CENSOR SCIENCE NEWS

Popular Articles Divulge Secrets to the Foe.

Even French Academy of Sciences Innocently Gives Facts Useful to Enemy.

Paris.—How popular science discussed in the daily and magazine press conveys information to the enemy and how even great national institutions like the French academy of sciences sometimes innocently divulge secrets which the enemy finds useful is told by a writer in La Liberté, who protests against the indiscriminate propagation of technical information. The writer comments on the fact that the academy of sciences has suggested that the censorship be rendered more effective by the addition of a few savants who will be able to recognize valuable scientific information when they see it.

In the view of the academy the press has been allowed, more by negligence than ignorance, to print much scientific information the importance of which escaped the editors and which should have been kept secret. The columns of matter relating to the German long-range gun form a case in point. M. Charles Le Goffic, a scientific writer of note, writing on this subject, says that the press has indulged in a veritable orgy of details concerning the experiments in progress in France to extend the range of the heavy artillery. Plans of shells and guns, he alleges, have even been published.

LOSES ALL HER RELATIVES

Seeing her castle destroyed and her old servants murdered by the Huns was the trying ordeal experienced by Dr. Antoinette d'Artagnan, a French woman doctor, now in the United States. She is the last of that name in France. She has been wounded and gassed, receiving medals from King Albert of Belgium and General Petain. Her chateau was within three miles of the Belgian border when the Germans came and destroyed everything, including rare works of art, tapestries, paintings and everything they could lay their hands on. Nothing now remains but a pile of stones to mark this once beautiful castle. She hopes to recover her health in this country, far from the scenes of horror that she has witnessed, and then intends to return to help the American woman doctors in France.

FRENCH CEMETERY TELLS WAR TALE

Row After Row of Crosses in Sleepy Village Symbolize Spirit of France.

22 AMERICAN DEAD THERE

Woman Strewing Flowers Upon the Graves of Yankee Soldiers Mourns the "Pauvres Garçons"—American Describes Visit to Cemetery.

New York.—An American officer with Pershing's army in France has written in a letter to his wife this moving description of a visit to a French cemetery:

"Come with me, then, to this little village on the banks of the —, a sleepy little village nestled in the broad valley through which the river flows. In ordinary times a village of a few thousand inhabitants, it is now almost empty because most of the people who could afford it have fled to safer places, tastering for the second time since 1914 the bitterness of the war as it affects the peaceful civilian.

"It is late afternoon, warm and sunny. We stroll down the main street together past the old church, once a handsome structure but now badly weather worn and almost in ruins. Further on we pass the ruins of an old Roman wall which marked the limits of the 'city' in Caesar's time. Our footsteps turn us to the right into a little lane which leads out to the country up the gentle slope and toward the front. After passing under the railroad bridge the lane branches off abruptly to the right. It soon disappears through a stone gateway and we find ourselves in the 'new' cemetery, called new because the demands of this terrible four years' struggle have been so urgent that the old cemetery is overpopulated. It was large enough for the normal population of the village, but death has stalked often through the streets these last four years and its victims must have room.

"A little gravel path, laid out with mathematic straightness, runs through the cemetery. First, there are a few civilian graves huddled together at the near end as if they had been crowded to make room for the other tenants. Then on the right row after row of graves of French soldiers marked by huge wooden crosses, and for the most part covered with those hideous bead-work floral pieces that the French use. On seeing them, one understands how Jean Valjean recouped his fortunes. You remember the story, no doubt. There were graves of infantry, cavalry and artillery, and once in a while that of an aviator, but wherever one goes it is always the infantry that predominates. Here is the grave of a Chinese worker, there that of a Mohammedan, but all bear the well-known phrase which means so much: 'Mort pour la patrie!'

Graves of Americans.

"As I wandered along through row after row reading the names and wondering who their owners might have been I was startled to see on the other side of the path a single row of graves, at the head of each a prim little cross, different somewhat from those across the way and painted in khaki. Then I knew who these newcomers were. There were 22 of them, each bearing a little round identification tag. I instinctively reached up to feel if mine was still around my neck. These 22, among the first to give up their all for the patrie so far across the sea, were arranged in perfect alignment like a platoon in drill. I couldn't help saying to myself:

"Well, when the Master of the Great Unknown commands—'Heroes, Attention to Muster!' you all will answer here."

"They were plain little graves, hideous almost in their newness and nary a sod to cover them. But had they been forgotten? No, indeed; for on each lay a little bunch of flowers, put there by the kind hands of the women of the village. These people are so kind, so thoughtful. They, at least, will never forget. Even as I stood there thinking about all these things a woman came up, very poor she seemed to be, yet she carried a huge basket filled with flowers, which she carefully distributed all along the row. As she came up to me I heard her say, almost to herself and thinking probably that I did not understand:

"Pauvres garçons, ils sont venus de si loin!"

"I couldn't help it, I went up to her and shook her by the hand and thanked her in the names of those sleeping there and in the name of their mothers and sisters and sweethearts back home. If I knew where to write, I would write to those 22 mothers and tell them that their boys are being well looked after."

"Before I could say anything more to the woman she was gone. She said she must keep one bunch of flowers for her man over yonder on the other side of the path. There were the serried ranks of the French, on our side of the path only one little row, and then off in a far corner away from everything else a little group of German graves, hid among a clump of trees as if shrinking from the advancing hordes of French and their new allies from across the sea. It all symbolized so well the two armies, the French and the American, one great, the other small but growing, standing side by side against the Boches who lay in the corner against the stone wall."

"In the upper part of the cemetery was a group of workmen digging. They had been digging all day long and for many days, for there were many rows of graves yet unfilled. There must be room for those yet to come."

Supplies for the Front.

"Along the railroad that runs past the cemetery train after train passes, loaded with supplies and munitions and men, going up toward the front. Could those sleeping here but know it! Could they but know that France, as ever since those terrible days of 1914, is standing fast, holding the enemy at bay, and bearing the brunt of this terrific struggle! They must know it, for they all sleep so peacefully. Their part is done. They have given everything they had to give and ungrudgingly. For them the distant rumble of the cannon has no misgivings, for they sleep secure in the belief that victory some day will be ours. Sleep on, comrades—for I am privileged to call you comrades—your work is over. You have well earned your rest. Those of us who are left will carry on the work you so well began."

"Just as I left the gate, turning homeward, a strange procession appeared down the lane, and I stopped to let it pass—a huge camion, painted war gray, followed by eight grizzled territorials, their rifles slung over their shoulders poilu fashion. They were dirty, unshaven, and their uniforms faded and torn, but, oh, so typical of France, torn and wracked by four long years of war. On the truck was painted the word 'Munitions.' It was not mislabeled, for it carried cannon-fodder that had served its purpose, and had been used up in the struggle.

"I came quickly to attention and saluted. It is a custom of the country, often done without thought or feeling, but this time my soul was in it. I was proud to thus render homage to one poor common soldier as he passed on his last, long march."

"Open wide the gates and give the newcomer room! Give him a comfortable place in that furthest row, for he must have rest and peace. The leaves in the trees rustled, the torn and faded flags fluttered and the tin tricolor cockades on each cross tinkled—thus was the newcomer welcomed into his last earthly home."

N. Y. AIR RAID GERMAN JOKE

Comic Paper Says American Women Are Keen on Latest Paris Novelties.

Amsterdam.—A cartoon in the latest issue of the German comic paper Jugend pictures a German air raid on New York. The scene is a New York roof garden, from which the sky is shown ablaze with bombs, shrapnel and fighting planes. An American "multimillionaire" is shown escorting his richly clad wife, who is said to be "shrinking in terror before the apparition in the sky." He reassures her by saying soothingly: "Well, my dear, you have always been keen on having the latest Parisian novelties. Now you've got them!"

GET GOOD MEAL FOR 14 CENTS

American Soldiers and Sailors Well Cared For by Y. M. C. A. in London.

BOYS LONG FOR HOME EATS

Eagle Hut Represents Last Word in Economical Eating in British Capital—Menu Shows Great Variety of Dishes.

London.—Fourteen cents for a satisfying meal. Twenty-five cents for a superlatively filling repast. These prices reveal that the high cost of eating should have no terrors to the American soldier or sailor "on his own" in London. It represents that last word in economical eating even for the English capital, where prices are uniformly moderate. Even the bigger public eating places, where large turnover allows a low charge, the lowest price charged for a modest meal is tenpence—20 cents, while the meal which costs the Yankee fighter a shilling costs the civilian as much as 85 cents.

Moreover, it is American food. Not every American boy in olive drab or navy blue who lands in London has a literary tourist's ambition to eat at the Cheshire Cheese or the Blackfriars or any of the other quaint inns made famous by Dickens or Thackeray. Many of our fighters do not care for the ponderous dishes of the two-decker novels, but yearn for modern home eats.

Where King Ate Pancakes.

And they get it, at 14 to 25 cents, at Eagle Hut, the famous Y. M. C. A. center, where King George and Queen Mary recently enjoyed pancakes a la American.

The 14-cent rate is cheaper even than that charged at the national model kitchen, where a three-course meal of soup, beef and pudding costs 18 cents. Mrs. Arthur Coke of London, who makes out all the Hut menus, not only meets all government requirements, but sees to it that there is proper and attractive variation in the dishes from day to day. The food is plain, to be sure, but it all is of high quality, and the portions show no stinting.

Breakfast and supper each cost 14 cents. A breakfast consists of cereal, sausage or bacon, bread and tea. A recent supper consisted of sausage, well done, thick slices of bread with butter, marmalade and tea. The same food costs from 25 to 30 cents at the West-end restaurants.

A typical shilling dinner includes Scotch broth, stewed steak or cold beef, potatoes, buttered beets, currant pudding, bread, tea or coffee. The soups are not the dishwater type, either, but of good stock. An Eagle Hut shilling supper provides the American fighter with meat pie containing more meat than crust, or sausage, potatoes, jelly, bread and butter, cake and tea or coffee. Commercial eating places charge two or three times this amount, often as high as 85 cents, within governmental restrictions.

Variety to Choose From.

The American soldier or sailor also can choose from extra dishes at equally low prices, a choice of fish, pie, eggs prepared in various ways, baked beans, salads, fried onions, rice-and-marmalade, custards, jellies and other sweets which are strangers to camp mess. The prices charged at the Eagle Hut are from two to six cents less than the ordinary restaurant prices. In addition, this is the one place where the American boys can get that most typical home delicacy, American pancakes with maple syrup, which the king and queen sampled recently. Twelve cents buys a brace of cakes with maple syrup, and the first half-month's demand for this favorite totaled one or more helpings for 6,124 men.

It is no wonder then that Eagle Hut feeds between 2,000 and 2,800 American fighters daily, and that the noon hour is a continuous rush which taxes to the uttermost the efforts of the waitresses, all women who volunteer their services and minister with smiling patience and friendliness to the appreciative lads from the United States.

Eagle Hut dispenses other commodities, tobacco and candy topping the list of favorites. A few Americans, forgetting the many advantages and economies found at the Hut, have complained that their favorite brands of American tobacco, if at all obtainable, cost them more than it did at home. They did not know that there is a high import duty on cigarettes and prepared tobacco for pipes and "makings" nor that there is a home tax which is causing the English tobaccoists to revise their prices often. Smoking imported tobacco in England today really is a luxury. The wise stranger has given it up in favor of the brands the English use.

Has Eight Sons in Service.

Took Her Literally

Mrs. Youngbride had cooked her first dinner. Her husband did his best to look cheerful and worry down the various viands, but in spite of himself his face showed dejection. Mrs. Youngbride noticed this, but she did not weep; instead, being somewhat given to slang, she exclaimed: "Cheer up, Harry! the worst is yet to come."

He threw up his hands quickly, and with a despairing glance he cried: "What! Have you made a pie?"

At Last

"Dey say soap is goin' to be more expensive," said Meandering Mike.

"I hope it is," replied Plodding Pete.

"I've waited years for some half-way excuse fur not usin' it."

The Reason

"Pa, why do they say in the market reports that wheat is nervous?"

"I guess, son, it is because it expects to be thrashed."

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.

What The Packers Do For You

Not very many years ago in the history of the world, the man that lived in America had to hunt for his food, or go without.

Now he sits down at a table and decides what he wants to eat; or his wife calls up the market and has it sent home for him. And what he gets is incomparably better.

Everyone of us has some part in the vast human machine, called society, that makes all this convenience possible.

The packer's part is to prepare meat and get it to every part of the country sweet and fresh—to obtain it from the stock raiser, to dress it, cool it, ship it many miles in special refrigerator cars, keep it cool at distributing points, and get it into the consumer's hands—your hands—through retailers, all within about two weeks.

For this service—so perfect and effective that you are scarcely aware that anything is being done for you—you pay the packers an average profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound above actual cost on every pound of meat you eat.

THE AMERICAN MARINE

Wherever they be, on land or sea, when the voice of duty calls, they're alert and true to dare and do; no peril our lads appals. With true Yankee grit they will do their "bit" through stormiest battle scenes. And the Teuton shell that was made in hell has no terror for our Marines.

Away in the front where the battle's brunt is winnowing men like chaff, American lads, the sons of their dads, keep fighting right on and laugh! Oh, they've hearts of steel, no fear do they feel for the Teuton's fiery "screens" Or his poison guns, and they'll get the Hun, for they are our own Marines!

Then, here's to the boys, America's joys, to our gallant lads in France! To the Stars and Stripes, the immortal types of Democracy's advance! To the men who know how to meet the foe and who show what courage means! Uncle Sam is proud of that fearless crowd, the magnificent Marines! -John E. Barrett in New York Sun.

Knowledge, Without Love of Nature Does Not Stick, Says an Authority on the Subject.

"Once started in pursuit of nature lore, we are pretty sure to keep on," says John Burroughs in the Century Magazine. "When people ask me, 'How shall we teach our children to love nature?' I reply: 'Do not try to teach them at all. Just turn them loose in the country and trust to luck.' It is time enough to answer children's questions when they are interested enough to ask them. Knowledge without love does not stick; but if love comes first, knowledge is pretty sure to follow. I do not know how I first got my own love for nature, but I suppose it was because I was born and passed my youth on the farm, and reacted spontaneously to the natural objects about me. I felt a certain privacy and kinship with the woods and fields and streams long before the naturalist awoke to self-consciousness within me. A feeling of companionship with nature came long prior to any conscious desire for accurate and specific knowledge about her works. I loved the flowers and the wild creatures, as most healthy children do, long before I knew there was such a study as botany or natural history. And when I take a walk now, thoughts of natural history play only a secondary part; I suspect it is more to bathe the spirit in natural influences than to store the mind with natural facts. I think I know what Emerson means when he says in his journal that a walk in the woods is one of the secrets for dodging old age."

Mother's Cook Book

No talent will enable us to do any work without drudgery, but no childlessness must tempt us to give it up because it is hard. No work can be well done by anyone who is unwilling to sacrifice ease to its accomplishment.

Save Sugar.
Before the war Germany, Austria-Hungary and Russia produced 57 per cent of the total supply of beet sugar, about one-third of the entire sugar supply of the world. With the withdrawal of sugar exports of these heavily producing countries it is easy to see why the allies' supply of sugar has shrunk. The one thing we can do in this country is to increase our production and decrease our consumption, to change our sugar habits until the war is over.

In practically all dishes requiring sugar some other sweetening may be substituted. The sweetening power of sirups varies somewhat, so that will have to be taken into account. Honey is about as sweet as sugar, but when it is used the liquid in the dish will need to be decreased. Maple sirup is sweeter than sugar and corn sirup less sweet. When substituting sirups for sugar decrease the liquid one-fourth.

Dried fruits of various kinds, when added to any cereal or pudding decrease the amount of sweetening needed.

Coconut Drop Cookies.
Cream a half cupful of fat, add one cupful of corn sirup, a fourth of a cupful of sour milk with a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda added, a third of a teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of buckwheat flour, one-half cupful of corn flour, a third of a cupful of coconut, a teaspoonful of vanilla, and a teaspoonful of baking powder sifted with the flour. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased tin. Bake in a quick oven.

Peanut Butter Cookies.
Mix the following ingredients in the order given: Six tablespoonfuls of fat, one-fourth of a cupful of molasses, one-fourth cupful of sour milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of baking powder, and three and one-fourth cupfuls of buckwheat flour, or sufficient to make a mixture stiff enough to roll. Roll, cut and bake in a moderate oven.

Maple sirup cooked with a cupful of sour cream until waxy, and added to half cupful of broken nut meats, hickory, walnut, butternut or pecans, is a delicious filling for cake. If frosting is desired boil the maple sirup and pour over the beaten white of the egg, beating until thick before placing on the cake.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER
It's mercury! Attacks the bones, salivates and makes you sick.
There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.
It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.
Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.
Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you. -Adv.

Amendment to Dental Law Breaks Power of Combine and Safeguards Interests of All

More than 125,000 Californians have asked to have the Dental Law amended.

If you knew how the present Dental Law operates you would realize that never has there been greater reason for change in a law.

Dental laws are made at the command of a combine of political dentists for their own profit, under the excuse, "protection for the people."

This permits them to fix high prices, and hold them high, by regulating competition.

High prices make a luxury of dentistry and put it out of reach of eighty per cent of the people.

This amendment brings dentistry within reach of all the people.

It secures the services of highly skilled dentists, permitted to charge reasonable fees.

It permits dentists to give openly to the public information the people should have about the care of their teeth.

Yes! I have personal interest in this measure.

The Dental Trust seeks to ruin those it cannot control, depriving the people of fair prices which come only through competition.

Huge sums of money are being used to cloud the issue, so that the interests of the people may be made secondary to the profits of the dentists.

This is your fight to make it possible for people of moderate means to save their teeth.

End this autocracy.

The Dental Amendment will be No. 21 on the ballot.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:
"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.
Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.
"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Permit me, through the columns of your paper, to express to the people of Campbell and vicinity my deep appreciation of the vote given me at the recent primary election. I feel that the result of the election is an expression of the will of the people on a great national issue, rather than a choice among candidates.

If there ever was a time in the history
of this republic when public office should be considered a sacred trust, that time is surely to day. We are making the supreme sacrifice, and giving of our best manhood and pouring out our treasure, in the great cause for which this nation was founded. And it is this same spirit of service to our country, I trust, which shall be my guide in the work we may be called upon to perform at Sacramento.

Very truly,
T. M. WRIGHT.

"Doc" Honor Guest

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Robson entertained about a score of friends at their new home on Harrison avenue last evening,
in honor of Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Merrill.

The Campbell Glee Club will hold a grand sing fest and pow-wow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cramer this Friday evening in honor of one of its members, Dr. Walter Irving Merrill, barytono-superlativo.

This will be the last gathering of this entire Clan until after the war, so light-sleepers in the neighborhood kindly put up with the boys and noise for this last offense. Maybe they're planning for a big show "when the boys come home."

A public reception will be held at the Congregational church parlors Saturday evening in honor of Dr. W. I. Merrill who leaves Monday to report for duty in the Navy.

Doctor becomes one of Uncle Sam's naval physicians going to Goat Island for the present. His family will remain here for some time at least. Provision has been made for the care of his patrons.
"Doc" is a real good scout and has a host of friends who will be glad of this opportunity to meet him and wish him god-speed and a speedy return to our midst.

Yanks A Godsend

Walter Huntley has written from France where he is with the Canadian forces. The following excerpt gives on an idea of the joy in the hearts of our allies at the arrival of our boys.

"The enemy is beaten now without a doubt. The Yanks have been a Godsend to us boys in the front line. They look just like the Canadians, a little different in dress. The enemy scoffed at the Yanks at first but will never do it again. He has learned his lesson and paid the price. Hope the war is over before James gets here."

The Red Cross sewing rooms are again open three days in the week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. A large attendance is urged as there is a quantity of work that must be finished by Sept. 15.

It has been reported thru the American Red Cross that the Italian war prisoners, held in Germany are in very great need of assistance. Any Italian in this country who can secure the name and address of one or more of these prisoners will do well to lend a helping hand at once. Further information as to how to send such assistance can be obtained through the local Red Cross Chairman,
C. H. Whitman, or at the Post Office.

Enjoys the Work

Villa Chalne, France,
August 6, 1918.

My dearest Mother,
Just a few hurried lines while I have a chance to write.

For nearly a week it has rained and we have haven't done a great deal. It will be good to see the sun again.

Mr. Eckles has the Y. M. C. A. going first rate now, and every night I help him when I am not on duty. He had a tough time the first night. He had a stock of cigars which he sold at a loss of six francs or about a dollar a box. He is beginning to learn about tobacco and such things now. Together we do quite a business of an evening. Soon we'll have a moving picture machine.

Did I tell you about Market Day here?
Well, mother, every Friday the streets are crowded with people all in their best clothes, buying and selling. The women bring knitted goods and sewing, meat, fruits and everything. All day long they sell and buy and when at night their goods are sold, they pack up their booths and clear away.

We fellows went to motor school.
The jazzy riding here isn't very much,
we can do circles around them. They use some Indians and some British motors, called B. S. A's. They have 1 lung and 3 speeds, a side car and lots of pep for a small car. There are brakes on both front and rear wheels.

The country around here is very pretty with winding roads most of which are bordered with high hedges and at intervals are road houses called villas or cotes. The farm houses are nearly all of stone, with tiled and thatched roofs. In the older ones, the cows, chickens, pigs
and all animals live in the house with the people.

We have to go to get our canteens filled with water at a farm house near,
and we pay, then a penny a canteen.
The "Old Oaken Bucket" is largely in use. A little fellow 5 years old sits on the well-brink and collects our pennies
like a little man. His little feet are bare, his clothes are old and worn, but he's happy. Every day at chow time there are a few little chaps at the cook shack
for something to eat.

A few weeks ago at our infirmary, a Frenchman came to pick up cigarette stubs. Soon a crowd was over as they talk to us for hours. He told us how the Germans treat prisoners and women and children. He wasn't lying but his stories were too long and terrible to tell
but they were the same that we hear and read of. He had been wounded twice and in a gas attack. He had the most terrible expression I have ever seen on a man's face, which showed the awful suffering he had been thru. But he wasn't weakened and was going back to fight again. We all gave him cigarettes and money when he left and he kissed each of us. There was nothing funny about it either, he was deadly sincere.

Fond love to all at home.
Ever your loving son,
Vivian Priestly.

You Must Register

Your country is engaged in a just and holy war. We are fighting to preserve our homes and our country from such atrocities as the enemy forces have committed in Belgium and in Northern France.
The act of registering does not of itself mean that you will be called to the colors but it does mean that you have responded to the call of your country; that subject to the rules of the War Department which may place you in a deferred classification, you have placed yourself on the record as one of those who believe in our country;
that you can say to your neighbors
and friends that you have complied with the laws of the land in every way, and that you are standing behind our brave boys who are already "Over There."

If on Sept. 12 you are one of the men between the ages of 18 and 45, both inclusive, you must register.

This means that if your 18th
birthday comes on or before Sept.
12 you must register.

It means that if you have not become 46 you must register.

The place of registration for all of Campbell precincts, Union 1
and Hamilton 2 is at the Campbell library, Sept. 12. Mr. J. F. Duncan is chief registration clerk, assisted by Messrs. G. S. Robson, Edw. LaMontagne, J. C. Ainsley
and F. H. Cutting.

New Committees

Rev. W. H. Lloyd, at a recent meeting of the church gave a resume of his pastorate and concluded with the statement that he had this an advisable time for the church to have a change of ministers. Mr. Lloyd and family have greatly endeared themselves to the members of their church and congregation and the community generally. The decision rests with the bishop and district superintendent, and his friends
hope that they will consider it advisable to return Mr. Lloyd to Campbell.

The following committees for the coming conference year were nominated by the pastor and elected:

Trustees--S. G. Rodeck, Mrs. P. G.
Keith, G. W. Page, W. H. Stuart, C. E.
Hanger, E. R. Kennedy, I. W. Snow, G.

Gov't. Rulings

Because of a government ruling
in the paper conservation scheme
all newspaper subscriptions must be paid in advance and no arrears of more than three months will be allowed. We therefore urge all our subscribers to assist us in getting our slate clean and up-to-date before the 1st of October, the time set by the government.

Those whose subscriptions are not in advance will receive notice of their standing and will kindly pay same at once. This is only one of several stringent rules made in regard to newspapers, another of which is that no free copies can be given out except on advertising contract; and only a very limited number of extras may be printed.
If you are going to want extra copies kindly notify this office by Wednesday noon of that week.

Co-operate with the government in the matter of subscriptions, so your paper will not be discontinued.

The total sales and pledges of thrift and W. S. Stamps to Aug. 31, are: Sales $36,140.00, pledges $21,975, making a grand total of $58,115.00. This does not include stamps bought from other post-offices by many of our district.

Remember that the Grammar school is open Tuesday afternoon for Civilian relief sewing. As many of these usually present are busy at this time, the help of every one who can spare a short time is urgently asked. With winter approaching every garment available will be sorely needed by our allies.
